PART II

Provisions which Determine the Legislation Applicable

ARTICLE 5

Subject to the provisions of Articles 6 to 9 of this Convention, a person's liability to be insured under the legislation of the United Kingdom, whilst gainfully occupied, shall depend on his being so occupied in the territory of the United Kingdom and, under the legislation of Finland, as concerns employment pension, benefits for industrial injuries and diseases and benefit from an unemployment fund, on his being gainfully occupied in that country and, in other cases, on his being ordinarily resident there.

ARTICLE 7

(1) Subject to the provisions of paragraphs (2), (3) and (4) of this Article, where a person who is ordinarily resident in the territory of either Party is employed on board any ship or vessel of one Party, the legislation of that Party shall apply to him as if any conditions relating to residence were satisfied in his case.

(2) Where a person who is insured under the legislation of one Party and employed in the territory of that Party or on board any ship or vessel of that Party, is sent by an employer in the territory of that Party to work on board a ship or vessel of the other Party, the legislation of the former Party shall continue to apply to him provided that his employment on board the ship or vessel of the latter Party is not expected to last for a period of more than twelve months and that he is not sent to replace another employee who has completed his period of posting. Where for unforeseen reasons his employment on board the ship or vessel of the latter Party continues after such period of twelve months, the legislation of the former Party shall continue to apply to him for any further period of not more than twelve months, provided that the competent authority of the latter Party agrees thereto before the end of the first twelve months.

(3) Where a person, who is not normally employed at sea, is employed other than as a member of the crew, on board a ship or vessel of one Party, in the territorial waters of, or at a port of, the other Party, the legislation of the latter Party shall apply to him as if any conditions relating to residence were satisfied in his case, provided that he is ordinarily resident in the territory of one of the Parties.

(3) Where a person, other than a person to whom paragraphs (1) and (2) apply, is employed in a diplomatic mission or consular post of one Party in the territory of the other Party, or in the private service of an official of such a mission or post, the legislation of the former Party shall apply to him as if he were employed in its territory, but within three months of the entry into force of the present Convention, or within three months of the beginning of the employment in the territory of the latter Party, whichever is later, he may choose to be insured under the legislation of the latter Party, provided that he was so insured in the territory of the latter Party immediately before the commencement of the employment at that mission or post.

The competent authorities of the two Parties may agree to modify the provisions of Articles 5 to 8 of this Convention in respect of particular persons or categories of persons.

PART III

Special Provisions

Section 1

Special Provisions Relating to the Application of the Legislation of the Territory of the United Kingdom

ARTICLE 10

(1) For the purpose of calculating an earnings factor for entitlement to any benefit referred to in Articles 11 to 21 of this Part of this Convention which is provided under the legislation of the territory of the United Kingdom a person shall be treated for each week beginning in a relevant tax year under the legislation of that Party the whole of which week is a contribution period completed as an insured person under the legislation of Finland, as having paid a contribution as an employed earner on earnings equivalent to two-thirds of that year's upper earnings limit.

(2) For the purpose of converting to an insurance period any earnings factor achieved in any tax year under the legislation of the territory of the United Kingdom the competent authority of that Party shall divide the earnings factor by that year's lower earnings limit. The result shall be expressed as a whole number, any remaining fraction being ignored. The figure so calculated, subject to a maximum of the number of weeks during which the person was subject to that legislation in that year, shall be treated as representing the number of weeks in the insurance period completed under that legislation.

Section 2

Sickness and Maternity Benefit and Invalidity Pension

ARTICLE 11

(1) Where a person has, since his last arrival in the territory of one Party, completed a contribution period under the legislation of that Party or become resident there, as the case may be, any insurance period completed under the legislation of the other Party shall, subject to the provisions of Article 10 of this Convention, be treated for the purpose of any claim for sickness benefit or maternity allowance made under the legislation of the former Party, as if it were an insurance period completed under the legislation of the former Party.

(2) Where a person would be entitled to sickness benefit or maternity allowance under the legislation of one Party if he were in the territory of that Party he shall be entitled to that benefit while he is in the territory of the other Party if:

- (a) his condition necessitates immediate treatment during a stay in the territory of the latter Party and, within three days of commencement of incapacity for work or such longer period as the insurance authority of the former Party may allow, he submits to the competent authority of the former Party a certificate of incapacity for work issued by the doctor treating him; or
- (b) having become entitled to sickness benefit or maternity allowance under the legislation of the former Party, he is authorised by the competent institution to return to the territory of the Party where he resides or to transfer his residence to the territory of the other Party; or
- (c) he is authorised by the competent institution of the former Party to go to the territory of the latter Party to receive there the treatment appropriate to his condition.

The authorisation required in accordance with sub-paragraph (b) of this paragraph may be refused only if it is established that movement of the person concerned would be prejudicial to his state of health or the receipt of medical treatment.

(3) Where, but for the provisions of this paragraph, a person would be entitled to sickness benefit or maternity allowance under the legislation of both Parties for the same period whether by virtue of the present Convention or otherwise, that benefit shall be granted exclusively under the legislation under which the person was last insured.

ARTICLE 12

(1) Where a woman is confined in the territory of one Party, for the purpose of a claim for maternity grant under the legislation of that Party periods of presence or residence completed in the territory of the other Party shall, where necessary, be treated as if they were periods of presence or residence completed in the territory of the former Party.

(2) Where a woman would be entitled to a maternity grant under the legislation of both Parties in respect of the same confinement, whether by virtue of this Convention or otherwise:

- (a) the grant shall be payable only under the legislation of the Party in whose territory the confinement occurs; or
- (b) if the confinement does not occur in the territory of either Party, the grant shall be payable only under the legislation of the Party under whose legislation the woman was last insured before the confinement or, if she was never insured, under the legislation of the Party under whose legislation her husband was last insured before her confinement.

ARTICLE 13

(1) Where under the legislation of the United Kingdom a person is entitled to sickness benefit by virtue of the provisions of paragraph (2) of Article 11 of this Convention, or would be entitled to invalidity pension if he were in the territory of the United Kingdom, but he is not entitled to a pension under the Finnish national pensions legislation, he shall be entitled while he is in the territory of Finland to receive that benefit or pension under the legislation of the United Kingdom as if he were in the territory of the United Kingdom for a period of not exceeding five years except that the rate of any benefit or pension payable shall be reduced by the amount of any benefit payable for the same period in respect of incapacity for work under the legislation of Finland, other than sickness benefit.

(2) Where under the legislation of Finland a person is entitled to sickness benefit by virtue of the provisions of paragraph (2) of Article 11 of this Convention he shall be entitled while he is in the territory of the United Kingdom to receive that benefit for the maximum period it would have been payable if he had been in the territory of Finland and thereafter his entitlement to invalidity pension shall be determined under the legislation of the United Kingdom as if he had received sickness benefit under that legislation for 168 days.

(3) The provisions of paragraph (2) of Article 15 of this Convention shall apply mutatis mutandis for the purposes of determining entitlement to additional component payable under the legislation of the United Kingdom.

Section 3

Unemployment Benefit

ARTICLE 14

(1) Where a person has, since his last arrival in the territory of one Party, completed a contribution period under the legislation of that Party, he shall be treated, for the purpose of a claim for unemployment benefit under the legislation of that Party, as if any insurance period completed under the legislation of the other Party were an insurance period completed under the legislation of the former Party.

(2) The application of paragraph (1) under Finnish legislation presupposes that the person concerned has been employed in Finland for at least four weeks in total during the last twelve months before submitting his claim. Paragraph (1) shall apply, however, even when his employment has terminated before the expiration of four weeks, if it was terminated through no fault of the employed person and had been intended to last for a longer period.

(3) Where a person claims unemployment benefit under the legislation of one Party by virtue of paragraph (1) of this Article, any period for which he received such benefit under the legislation of the other Party during the last 12 months before the day for which his claim is made shall be taken into account as if it were a period for which he had received such benefit under the legislation of the former Party.

Section 4

Old Age Pension and Widow's Benefit

ARTICLE 15

(1) Where a person is entitled to an old age pension (other than the basic component of a Category B retirement pension payable to a married woman under the legislation of the United Kingdom by virtue of the contributions of her husband) under the legislation of one Party otherwise than by virtue of the provisions of this Convention, that pension shall be payable and the provisions of Article 16 shall not apply under that legislation.

(2) For the purposes of determining entitlement to additional component payable under the legislation of the United Kingdom, no account shall be taken of any insurance period completed under the legislation of Finland; and for the purposes of this Article and Article 16 of this Convention additional component shall be treated as a separate benefit to which the provisions of that Article 16 do not apply.

ARTICLE 16

(1) Where a person is not entitled to an old age pension under the legislation of the United Kingdom in accordance with the provisions of Article 15 of this Convention, any insurance period which he has completed under the legislation of Finland shall, subject to the provisions of Article 10 of this Convention, be treated as if it were an insurance period completed under the legislation of the United Kingdom, and his entitlement to an old age pension under the legislation of the United Kingdom shall be determined in accordance with paragraphs (2) and (3) of this Article.

(2) The insurance authority of the United Kingdom shall determine:

- (a) first the amount of the theoretical pension which would be payable if all the insurance periods completed by him under the legislation of both Parties had been completed under the legislation of the United Kingdom; and then
- (b) the amount of that part of such theoretical pension, which bears the same relation to the whole as the total of the insurance periods completed by him under the legislation of the United Kingdom bears to the total of all the insurance periods which he has completed under the legislation of both Parties.

The amount thus calculated shall be the pension actually payable to the person by the competent institution.

(3) For the purposes of the calculation in paragraph (2) of this Article, where all the insurance periods completed by any person under the legislation of:

- (a) either the United Kingdom or the Isle of Man amount to less than one reckonable or, as the case may be, qualifying year, or relate only to periods before 6 April 1975 and in aggregate amount to less than 50 weeks;
- (b) Finland in aggregate amount to less than 12 months;

those periods shall be treated as if they had been completed under the legislation of another part of the territory of that Party under which a pension is, or if such periods are taken into account would be, payable, or under the legislation of that part which would be most beneficial to that person, or where no pension is or would be payable under the legislation of any other part of that territory, under the legislation of the other Party.

(4) For the purpose of applying the provisions of paragraph (2) of this Article:

- (a) the insurance authority of the United Kingdom shall take account only of insurance periods which are taken into account for the determination of pensions under the legislation of that Party, and in relation to a woman, shall, where appropriate, take into account in accordance with that legislation insurance periods completed by her husband;
- (b) no account shall be taken of any graduated contributions paid under the legislation of the territory of the United Kingdom and the amount of any graduated benefit payable by virtue of such contributions shall be added to the amount of any pension payable in accordance with paragraph (2) of this Article under that legislation;
- (c) any increase of pension in respect of a child or children shall be excluded from the amount of pension calculated in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (2) of this Article.

(5) If an old age or invalidity pension according to the Finnish National Pensions Act or a widow's benefit according to the Finnish Survivors' Pensions Act is granted to a national of the United Kingdom while living in Finland, he shall be entitled to receive this pension or benefit while staying in the United Kingdom on the same conditions as a national of Finland.

(6) Where a national of the United Kingdom while living in the territory of the United Kingdom or in the territory of Finland in other respects fulfils the qualifications for entitlement to the old age pension according to the Finnish Pensions Act, he shall be granted the basic amount of this pension on application, if he has been resident in Finland for an unbroken period of at least five years after having reached the age of 16 years.

(7) Where a national of the United Kingdom while living in the territory of the United Kingdom or in the territory of Finland in other respects fulfils the qualifications for entitlement to the widow's benefit according to the Finnish Survivors' Pensions Act, the widow shall be granted the basic amount of this benefit on application, if the deceased and the widow had been resident in Finland for an unbroken period of at least five years after having reached the age of 16 years. Survivor's pension to children in the care of the widow shall be paid in full on the same conditions.

ARTICLE 17

Where a person does not simultaneously satisfy the conditions for entitlement of an old age pension under the legislation of both Parties, his entitlement under the legislation of one Party shall be established as and when he satisfies the conditions laid down by the legislation of that Party.

ARTICLE 18

The provisions contained in Articles 15 to 17 of this Convention shall apply, with such modifications as the differing nature of the benefits shall require, to widow's benefit.

Section 5

Benefits for Industrial Injuries and Diseases

ARTICLE 19

(1) Where a person is employed in the territory of one Party and the legislation of the other Party applies to him in accordance with any of the provisions of Articles 5 to 9 of this Convention he shall be treated under that legislation for the purpose of any claim for benefit in respect of an industrial accident or an industrial disease contracted during that employment, as if the accident had occurred or the disease had been contracted in the territory of the latter Party.

(2) Where a person sustains an industrial accident after he leaves the territory of one Party to go in the course of his employment to the territory of the other Party but before he arrives in the latter territory, then, for the purpose of any claim for benefit in respect of that accident:

- (a) the accident shall be treated as if it had occurred in the territory of the Party whose legislation applies to him at the time the accident occurred; and
- (b) his absence from the territory of that Party shall be disregarded in determining whether his employment was as an employed person under that legislation.

(3) Where a person would be entitled to benefit in respect of incapacity for work as the result of an industrial accident or disease under the legislation of one Party if he were in the territory of that Party he shall be entitled to that benefit while he is in the territory of the other Party if:

- (a) he is temporarily resident in the territory of the latter Party; or
- (b) having become entitled to such benefit, he is authorised by the competent institution to return to the territory of the Party where he resides or to transfer his residence to the territory of the other Party; or
- (c) he is authorised by the competent institution of the former Party to go to the territory of the latter Party to receive there the treatment appropriate to his condition.

The authorisation required in accordance with sub-paragraph (b) of this paragraph may be refused only if it is established that movement of the person concerned would be prejudicial to his state of health or the receipt of medical treatment.

ARTICLE 20

(1) Where a person has sustained an industrial injury or contracted an industrial disease, in respect of which the legislation of one Party applies, and later sustains an industrial injury or contracts an industrial disease in respect of which the legislation of the other Party applies, then for the purpose of determining the degree of his disablement under the legislation of the latter Party, account shall be taken of the former injury or disease as if the legislation of the latter Party applied to it.

(2) Where a person contracts an industrial disease, after having been employed in the territory of only one Party in occupations to which, under the legislation of that Party, the disease may be attributed, the legislation of that Party shall apply in his case, even if the disease is first diagnosed in the territory of the other Party. This shall apply also in relation to any aggravation of the disease, provided that the person has not in the meantime been further exposed to the same risk in the territory of the latter Party.

(3) Where a person contracts an industrial disease, after having been employed in the territories of both Parties in an occupation to which the disease may be attributed under the legislation of both Parties, and he would be entitled to receive benefit in respect of that disease under the legislation of both Parties, whether by virtue of this Convention or otherwise, the benefit shall be payable only under the legislation of the Party in whose territory he was last employed in that occupation before the disease was diagnosed.

(4) Where a person has suffered an aggravation of an industrial disease for which benefit has been paid in accordance with the provisions of paragraphs (2) and (3) of this Article, the following provisions shall apply:

- (a) if the person has not had further employment in occupations to which the disease or the aggravation may be attributed, or has had such employment only in the territory of the Party under whose legislation benefit has been paid, any additional benefit to which he may become entitled as a result of such aggravation shall be payable only under that legislation;
- (b) if the person makes a claim under the legislation of the Party in whose territory he is employed on the grounds that he has suffered an aggravation of the disease while he was employed in the territory of that Party in occupations to which, under the legislation of that Party, the aggravation may be attributed, the competent institution of that Party shall be liable to pay benefit only in respect of the aggravation as determined under the legislation of that Party.

ARTICLE 21

Where, but for the provisions of this Article and subject to the provisions of paragraph (4)(b) of Article 20 of this Convention, a person would have been entitled to any benefit payable in respect of an industrial injury or disease under the legislation of both Parties, that benefit shall be granted exclusively under the legislation of the territory in which the person was last employed.

Section 6

Child Benefit

ARTICLE 22

(1) Where a person is resident in the territory of one Party and the legislation of the other Party applies to him in accordance with any of the provisions of Articles 5 to 9 of this Convention he or a spouse residing with him, shall be treated, for the purpose of any claim for child benefit under the latter Party's legislation:

- (a) as if he were present or resident, as the case may be, in the territory of the latter Party; and
- (b) as if any child of his family or any child for whom he is responsible were present or resident, as the case may be, in the territory of the latter Party, if he is present or resident, as the case may be, in the territory of the former Party.

(2) For the purpose of determining entitlement to child benefit under the legislation of the United Kingdom and subject to the provisions of paragraph (1) of this Article any period of presence completed by a person in the territory of Finland, shall be treated as if it were a period of presence completed by that person in the territory of the United Kingdom.

(3) Where, but for the provisions of this paragraph child benefit would be payable under the legislation of both Parties for the same period in respect of the same child, whether by virtue of this Convention or otherwise, child benefit shall be paid only under the legislation of the Party in whose territory the child concerned is ordinarily resident.

Section 7

Recovery of Advance Payments and Overpayments of Benefit

ARTICLE 23

Where a competent institution of one Party has made a payment of any benefit for any period, any arrears of a corresponding benefit which becomes payable for the same period under the legislation of the other Party may be withheld, provided that the amount so withheld shall not exceed the amount of the payment made by the former Party. Where a competent institution of one Party has overpaid benefit for any period for which the competent institution of the other Party afterwards becomes liable to pay a corresponding benefit, the overpayment shall be regarded, for the purposes of the first sentence of this paragraph, as an advance payment.

PART IV

Miscellaneous Provisions

(1) Where the legislation of one Party provides that any certificate or other document which is submitted under the legislation of that Party shall be exempt, wholly or partly, from any taxes, legal dues, consular fees or administrative charges, this exemption shall apply to any certificate or other document which is submitted under the legislation of the other Party or under the provisions of this Convention.

ARTICLE 27

Where any certificate, document or written statement of any kind is submitted to a competent authority of one Party, it shall not be rejected on the ground that it is written in the official language of the other Party.

ARTICLE 28

(1) Any claim, notice or appeal which should, for the purposes of the legislation of one Party, have been submitted within a prescribed period to the competent authority of that Party, shall be treated as if it has been submitted to that authority, if it is submitted within the same period to the competent authority of the other Party.

(2) Any claim for benefit submitted under the legislation of one Party shall be deemed to be a claim for the corresponding benefit under the legislation of the other Party in so far as this corresponding benefit is payable in accordance with the provisions of this Convention.

(3) Any document submitted under the legislation of Finland may, where appropriate, be treated as a notice of retirement given under the legislation of the territory of the United Kingdom.

(4) In any case to which the provisions of paragraph (1), (2) or (3) of this Article apply, the authority to which the claim, notice, appeal or document has been submitted shall transmit it without delay to the insurance authority of the other Party.

(3) Any remittance to be made in accordance with the provisions of this Convention shall be made in accordance with any agreement binding the two Parties at the time when such remittance is made.

ARTICLE 30

A person shall not be entitled, whether by virtue of this Convention or otherwise, to sickness benefit, invalidity pension or maternity allowance under the legislation of the territory of the United Kingdom for any period during which he is entitled to a full daily allowance in respect of an industrial accident or disease under the legislation of Finland.

ARTICLE 31

(1) Any dispute about the interpretation or application of this Convention shall be resolved through agreement between the competent authorities of each Party.

(2) If any such dispute cannot be resolved in this manner, it shall be submitted, at the request of either Party, to an arbitration tribunal which shall be composed in the following manner:

- (a) each Party shall appoint a referee within one month from receipt of the demand for arbitration. The two referees shall appoint, from the nationals of a third country, a third referee within two months from the date on which the Party which was the last to appoint its referee has notified the other Party of the appointment;
